CRUISIN' for a Heart Bruising

Utkarsh and Diksha's proposal was one for the books! It was a classic case of 'love at first sight' meets a Paris-style proposal with a twist of Kolkata. It was a romantic affair that was nothing short of a fairytale. When Utkarsh decided to surprise Diksha with a birthday proposal, he knew he had to do something special. Little did Diksha know, her dream of a Paris-style proposal was about to come true. Utkarsh had booked a cruise ship in Kolkata, a famous venue for events, to make her special day even more memorable. When Diksha arrived at the cruise ship, she was in for a real treat. Utkarsh had decorated the entire ship with her favourite flowers, and had even arranged for a romantic dinner. But the best part was yet to come. As they watched the beautiful sunset, Utkarsh got down on one knee and asked Diksha to marry him. Diksha was overwhelmed with joy and said yes! Utkarsh and Diksha's proposal was a unique and heartwarming experience, and a perfect example of how love can find its way into even the most arranged of marriages. After all, what's an arranged marriage without a little bit of romance?

Diksha and Utkarsh's carnival was a sight to behold! The Samba feather costumes were a perfect addition to the already vibrant atmosphere. With the sun shining down on the lush lawn, the couple kicked off their wedding celebrations in style. With laughter and music in the air, the two lovebirds put on a show that was truly unforgettable. The bride and groom then exchanged garlands and were showered with flower petals. Following this, the priest performed the traditional Hindu wedding rituals. The Day was a grand affair with a five-course meal, live music, and dancing. The bride and groom cut a three-tier wedding cake and shared their first dance as a married couple.
